

CAMPUS WEATHER POLICY

1700-0926

Times of inclement weather or other emergencies may force the University to delay or cancel classes. Every effort is made to make this decision in a reasonable timeframe that will permit students to be notified prior to traveling to campus. Typically, a decision is made by 6 a.m. in the morning or by 3 p.m. for evening classes.

IMPORTANT: If you attend Athens State classes at one of our University Centers, you should check to see if the host campus is open. If the host campus closes, no Athens State classes will be conducted. Students attending classes on Redstone Arsenal will always follow the schedule for the Athens State main campus.

How will I be notified if Athens State is closed or delayed?

First: check your university Webmail account. An email will be sent to all students, faculty and staff.

Second: the closing or delay will be posted on the university's website.

Third: information will be sent to the following television and radio stations:

- Television – Channels 48, 19, and 31
- Radio – FM – WZYP (104.3), WAHR (99), WDRM (102.1), WEUP (102.9), WRSA (96.9)
- Radio – AM – WVNN (770), WBHP (1230)

Fourth: Notice will be sent out via the Campus Alert Notification System
